

SpringBoard Founding Member

July 2016 – Present

Co-Chair, Events Committee

Lauren Ramsey is a social responsibility professional who understands and strongly believes in the power of community engagement and volunteerism. She currently leads volunteerism initiatives at United Way of NYC, where her primary role is to create corporate volunteer opportunities that support partner CBO's. She has experience in program management in both the CSR and CBO space, and her specialties include community engagement, volunteer management, and relationship building.